

Little miss sunshine

Add instant glow to your skin this winter by following my three no-fail rules ...

RULE #1: To get radiant skin, you must build moisture rather than piling on an unsuitably thick face cream. Start with a penetrating serum and follow with a light moisturiser. After applying foundation, rub moisturiser over palms and then press over skin to add a dewy glow.

RULE #2: Always apply a cream or liquid illuminiser to the high part of your cheekbones – this will catch the light as you move, giving a fresh, natural sheen.

RULE #3: If you're applying concealer after a day in the office, it's important to prepare your face. Your skin may be a little dry, so add moisturiser to the rough, red areas around the nose, let it penetrate, then apply a liquid concealer so your skin looks flawless.

1. MAC Strobe Liquid Lotion, $55. 2. Clinique Up-lighting Liquid Illuminator in Natural, $48. 3. Giorgio Armani Fluid Sheer in Shimmering Beige, $86.

Secret Beauty WEAPON

With winter comes new make-up rules. Ready for a fresh game plan?

Bowled-over brows

Professionally shaped eyebrows are a must. "You want to avoid the arched 'surprised' look at all costs," says Nathan Williams from Parlour B, Sydney. "The perfect brow doesn't have a point at the top; the arch should be softly tapered at a 45-degree angle. Arm yourself with a good pair of tweezers and only use brow gel if the hair is unruly. Powder should be used in soft, light tones to fill in gaps – don't rely on powder to totally shape the brow."

1. Revlon Colorstay Eyebrow Liner in Blonde, $19.95. 2. Estée Lauder Brow Perfecting Duo in Brunette, $56.

Eyes that smoulder

I love adding a wisp of colour over smoky eyes in winter. Clothing shades can be bleak, but a small dab of violet or sage-green shimmer along the lashline can make a totally black outfit look sexy (note to self: be sure to line my top lid with black kohl first). Use your finger to tap on the shimmery shadow – it doesn't need to be precise, a sexy smudge will do.

1. Styl-i-Style Shadow 24s in Violet and Orchid, from $19.95 each. 2. BYS Custom Colours Quad Case, $9.95. 3. Maybelline NY Expert Wear Eye Shadow Duo in Irish Mist, $13.50.
